CYBER SAFETY FOR KIDS

It's almost impossible to control what our kids are doing online, who do they talk to, what information they share, what they discuss, and do?

About 1 in 5 U.S. teens (21%) face cyberbullying each year, leading to anxiety, depression, and even self-harm (PACER, 2024).

Sextortion cases have surged 192% in the U.S. (Washington Post, 2025).

In 2023, there were 186,000 cases in the U.S. where predators used the internet to trick kids into sharing private photos, videos, or turning on their camera and microphone—a 300% increase since 2021 (The Guardian).
